

Safety Belt Extenders

Most motor vehicle manufacturers provide special pieces of safety belt webbing that can be used to lengthen the safety belt for people who do not fit in regular belts. These are made to fit specific vehicle belt systems and are available from dealerships.

Some vehicle manufacturers state that they may not be used with child safety seats. Others state that they should not be used under any circumstances due to safety concerns and do not provide them. Manufacturer customer service numbers are included, in case you wish to inquire further.
